

Guidance on Testimonials and Social Media

February 18, 2020

As the SEC's proposed Advertising Rule moves forward, advisory firms should not let a social media consultant cause their compliance program to move backward. The social media firm's suggested course of action may deviate from the current compliance rules or any new changes that come to pass if and when the proposed Advertising Rule is finalized.